Only 798 square miles in total area, Orange County is the third largest county in California in terms of population, with a population of 3,166,461 (2010). Orange County geography varies from coastal areas to inland elevations over 5,000 feet. The County is represented by the Orange County Transportation Authority (OCTA).

TRUCKING

Orange County is served by 17 State highway routes. The SR 73, SR 133, SR 241 and SR 261 are Toll Roads. The SR 91 Express Lanes are high occupancy tolling lanes that utilize congestion pricing. District 12 maintains and operates 279 route miles of highway and 266 directional miles of full-time High Occupancy Vehicle (HOV) or carpool lanes, one of the largest such networks in the State.

- As a connecting area between Los Angeles County, San Diego County, and the Inland Empire, District 12 sees considerable truck traffic.
- I-5 (Santa Ana Freeway), SR 55, SR 57, SR 91 and I-405 all achieve daily truck volumes between 15,000 and 22,000 trucks.
- Many highway-rail at-grade crossings need to be grade-separated to improve mobility and reduce delay.
- Priority highway projects on high volume truck routes are estimated to cost over $2.0 billion.

RAIL LINES

- District 12 is served by the Burlington Northern and Santa Fe (BNSF) Railway and Union Pacific Railroad (UP) main and branch lines.
- BNSF and UP rail lines run through Orange County north and south to primarily serve the industrial and port areas in San Diego and Los Angeles.
- The BNSF line carries an estimated 70 daily freight trains through northern Orange County, through Yorba Linda, Anaheim, Buena Park, Fullerton, and Placentia; volume is expected to increase.

- Along the Los Angeles/San Diego rail corridor (LOSSAN) runs north/south through the county, daily freight train traffic is expected to increase from 6 daily trains to 12 trains by 2025.
- No short line freight railroads operate in District 12.
